

Data Privacy Statement

I. Preface

Usage of this website is generally possible without provision of any personal data.

If single pages of this website are visited, only access data (e.g. browser type and time of access) are transmitted to our server. The data does not contain any personal information and further does not allow any other conclusion for personal identification in other ways.

Particularly the data provided for accessing the website is not used to create user profiles. Information is only used for statistical purposes and usability optimization of this website.

II. Inquiry and Usage of Personal Data

Personal data is only used if voluntarily submitted by you (e.g. if you write us a mail or during registration for the newsletter) or inquiry of personal data is required for substantiation, execution or termination of a legal transaction. After the transaction is completed all inquired or provided personal data is blocked from further use or deleted. Not affected by this policy is any data which needs to be stored for longer periods of time based on fiscal- or trade law regulations.

III. Transmission of Personal Data

Personal data is only transmitted to third parties with your explicit and separate permission, except if it is required for settlement of our contractual obligations (e.g. delivering your purchase). Particularly we transmit personal data required for the order and payment process (e.g. name, delivery- and billing address, chosen payment option and delivery method) to WUNDERY GmbH, Nibelungenstraße 50, 80639 München. Personal data required for delivery of your goods is transmitted to the logistics service provider in charge of delivering.

Any distribution of data beyond the aforementioned purpose will not take place without your explicit permission, except if legally required by judicial judgment, public authority or by law.

IV. Contact Form

If you use the contact form on our website, personal data is only collected as far as provided by you for the purpose of your inquiry. Obligatory for handling your request is the provision of a name or pseudonym as well as a valid E-mail address. Data provided by you is only used for the purpose of your request/s. Any inquiry, storage and handling of your data through our company beyond the requirements for handling your request does not take place. Transmission to third parties will not take place except with your explicit and separate permission.

V. Usage of the comment function

If you use the comment function on our website personal data is only inquired to the extent provided by you. When your comment is published, the provided mail address is not posted, only your name or pseudonym.

VI. Newsletter

You can subscribe to a newsletter offered on our website. For reception of the newsletter personal data (especially name and valid mail address) is required. Without your explicit and separate permission no newsletter will be send. After registration for the newsletter on our website, you will receive a confirmation mail. Only after you confirmed the newsletter subscription via mail, you start to receive the newsletter.

Deregistration is always possible, either via mail to us or by clicking on the deregistration link at the end of each newsletter.

VII. Information, Change and Revocation

You can receive the information, which personal data we have stored on you free of charge at any time. If applicable you might have the right for correction, inhibition or deletion based on the German Federal Data Protection Act. You can object the usage of your personal data for future purposes. In the before mentioned cases please send us your request via post or E-Mail to:

acofunktion GmbH
Ferdinand-Lassalle-Straße 16
04109 Leipzig

Phone: +49 341 12575343
E-Mail: info@substanz-drink.de

VIII. Cookies

To make your visit on our website save, effective and appealing, we use so-called Cookies. These are small text files including a sequence of numbers, which are locally stored on your user-device or temporary storage. Cookies do not become part of your PC-system. Most browsers are preset to automatically accept Cookies. After finishing your browser session most Cookies are deleted (so-called Session-Cookies). So-called permanent Cookies remain on your device and allow the website to identify you on your next visit.

If you do not wish to use Cookies, you have the option to block Cookies by changing your browser settings, respectively to delete all saved Cookies. If your chose to deactivate Cookies in your browser settings we cannot guarantee website functioning to the full extent.

IX. Area of Application

This Data Privacy Statement is valid for all pages on www.substanz-drink.com, which are stored on our server. This does not extend to any linked websites of third parties.